

The non-object art in Peru

Responsible researcher(s): Mihaela Radulescu de Barrio de Mendoza

Research assistants: Edward Venero, Milagro Farfán, Marco Vásquez, Paola Castillo, Pietro Hadzich and Gonzalo Espinoza

Department of Fine Arts – Research Unit - Video & design Research Group

The communicative power of contemporary non-object art, particularly the performance art, lies essentially in constructing inferences. The reference structure underlying the work culminates in a narrative which sense effects derive from contents that operate with argument character in the cultural memory.